Democrats Caught in Busing Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Northern Democrats, caught in the school desegregation controversy for the first time, are trying to block House action on a bill that would force them to vote on the busing issue.

Mostly liberals with good civil-rights records, they are caught between pro-busing civil-rights forces and growing anti-busing sentiment in their home districts.

The bill they would like to bury is President Nixon's $1.5-billion emergency school aid program.

Using every parliamentary device available they thwarted efforts in the Education and Labor Committee to force a vote on the bill this week, the unofficial deadline for completing committee action on legislation to be considered this year.

The bill has been knocking about in Congress for nearly 18 months since Nixon asked for it as an emergency measure to help Southern schools meet an August, 1970 desegregation deadline set by the Supreme Court.

Largely ignored by Northerners, whose districts wouldn't get much money, and viewed tepidly by Southerners who would like the money but not the federal presence that goes with it, it has been befriended mainly by administration supporters and civil-rights groups.

This support was weakened, however, by Nixon's decree last August that none of the money be used to pay for busing pupils.

The decree also has made it certain busing will be the chief issue if the bill ever reaches the House floor. With that certainty and with busing now a white-hot issue in many Northern cities, a concerted effort is being made in the committee to battle up the bill.

The action erupted publicly Tuesday while the committee was working on a big higher-education bill pushed in ahead of the desegregation bill.

A request by Rep. James H. Scheuer, D-N.Y., that consideration of a key section of the higher-education bill be put off until Thursday because of today's Jewish holiday produced a parliamentary free-for-all.

Supporters of the desegregation bill, suspicious of requests for any delay, refused to grant it.

A majority of the committee voted for the postponement requested by Scheuer. But Rep. Albert H. Quie, R-Minn., chief advocate of the desegregation bill, promptly moved to set 10:15 a.m. Thursday as the deadline for a final vote on the higher-education bill so the committee still would have time to consider the school-aid program.

Mountaire's Local Bull Is Celebrity

Green Fincher, manager of the cattle division for Mountaire Corporation, is wearing a big smile these days. His five seven months' old (pure bred) Charolais bull became a celebrity.

Registered as "Sir Mountaire," the 760 pound bull goes by the name of "Snowball" among the cowboys and Mountaire crew.

Last week at the Howard County Fair, Snowball won a blue ribbon for his first appearance in public among some strong competition. Then, Tuesday, September 28, at the Third District Livestock Show in Hope, he turned up wearing a blue ribbon and a Reserve Grand Champion Badge. This is quite an honor for one so young.

Sir Mountaire has an interesting story about his first few weeks. He was deserted by his mother at birth; and for several days, his life hung in the balance. Then, a good Tolstein mother nourished and cared for the "little critter." By all accounts, he has paid his foster mother in full for her trouble.

Future plans for Snowball are far reaching. Mr. Fincher expects a room full of trophies.

Outbreak in Northern Ireland Can Be Brief Skirmish or Ugly Clash

By DONALD FORBES
Associated Press Writer

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — In a tinder box of sectarian hatred like Belfast, a riot erupts from a trivial spark.

A schoolboy's stone glancing off a police prowl car or a badly aimed gelignite bomb bursting harmlessly near a British army patrol swiftly ignites street-fighting passions.

Northern Ireland's Protestant-based government on Aug. 9 ordered the internment without trial of terrorist suspects. Spokesmen for the Roman Catholic minority contend this is aimed exclusively at them.

In any event, riots have been a daily affair according to the police and army.

An outbreak can be a brief skirmish or an ugly clash stretching over several hours. Workmen Return to Paper Co.

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — Workmen were scheduled to return to their jobs Thursday at the construction site of an International Paper Co. plant about 15 miles southwest of here where six persons were killed and 14 others injured Monday when a giant water tank collapsed.

Officials continued sifting through rubble today in an effort to find what caused the six-story tank to split open and then collapse, dumping almost a million gallons of water on workmen below.

Those killed and most of the injured were pouring concrete for the foundation of a tank identical to the one that collapsed.

No damage estimate has been made. "We'll probably never know what the loss was," said W. C. Stacks, construction manager at International Paper. "How do you put monetary value on a human life?"

and causing thousands of dollars in damage. On any day in Belfast, trouble is not hard to find.

Take the Catholic New Lodge area at 3:10 one afternoon.

A British army patrol, each trooper hefting a high-velocity rifle that can kill at 600 yards, tramps past a block of new apartments. A sudden burst of shots and a nail bomb are aimed at the soldiers.

Within minutes, surrounding streets are full of kids, and a few adults, pelting the soldiers as they try to locate sniper nests.

A volley of rubber bullets—big enough to inflict a nasty bruise but not lethal—disperses the children.

Order is restored within minutes and while the more daring youngsters pick through the debris and broken glass from shattered windows, for rubber bullets—prized souvenirs—an army snatch squad collars two Catholic youths they suspect have thrown the nail bomb.

They submit to a search with a "sniffer," an army device which can detect traces of gelignite on a man's hands or in the lining of his pockets.

Both are "clean." The patrol commander orders their release. The youths walk off.

Nixon and Gromyko Meet Today

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon meets with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko on disarmament and other issues today in an atmosphere warmed by several new elements.

superpower nations joined Tuesday in proposing a biological-weapons-ban treaty to the Geneva disarmament committee. Their two foreign ministers will sign accords here Thursday on modernizing the Washington-Moscow hotline and on avoiding accidental nuclear war.

But optimism from these developments and the historic Big Four Berlin Agreement signed Sept. 4 is tempered by significant differences remaining between the United States and the Soviet Union on a host of important subjects.

On European security—a topic slated for Nixon-Gromyko attention—the Kremlin has been less forthcoming than U.S. officials had hoped.

Gromyko's call at the White House, while he is in this country attending the U.N. General Assembly fall session, has been

Dead Cows Investigated at Rogers

ROGERS, Ark. (AP)—An investigation continued today into the cause of death of seven cows in a pasture adjacent to the Fulton Sanitation landfill in the Pleasant Hill area near here.

The cows were found dead Sunday, partially decomposed in the bottom of a spring-fed creek. A buzzard was found dead approximately 15 feet from the body of a dead cow.

Area veterinarians said an autopsy could not be performed on the cows due to the length of time of death. The buzzard, still warm at the time it was found was frozen and taken to Fayetteville for analysis.

The stream, which runs across Meritt's land, feeds approximately 10 known wells in the area before going underground again. The draw in which the stream runs empties into Beaver Lake, about three-quarters of a mile from the site of the dead cows.

$3.6 Million Bond Issue Vote Nov. 9

The City Directors, at their regular meeting last night, ordered an election set for November 9 on a $3.6 million dollar "Act 9" Bond Issue for the Permaneer Corporation, owners of the particle board plant in the Oakhaven area, formerly operated by the Plaswood Corporation.

Mr. Harry Yepsen, Executive Vice President of the Permaneer Corporation, and James Gilbert, Vice President of Manufacturing for the Permaneer Corporation, were present at the meeting. Mr. Yepsen said that if the financing was approved at the coming election, the company would begin immediate expansion and redesign of the plant. The plant will be converted to produce a plastic covered panel board which this company has been manufacturing and marketing for the past several years. Panel board of this type is presently being produced by the Georgia Pacific Company of Crossett. Under their present plans, panel board produced at the Crossett plant will be shipped to Hope for the final finish. The Hope plant will produce panel board and do the finish for both plants.

Mr. Nolen Flemming, Assistant Director of the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission, accompanied the men to Hope. The A.I.D.C. has been working with the Permaneer Corporation on a proposed project for sometime.

Bonds issued under this law are in no way a pledge of the credit of City of Hope. Purchasers of the bonds will be secured only by the contract with Permaneer Corporation. The Board of Directors welcomed the officials of the Permaneer Corporation and expressed their appreciation for their plans to expand in Hope, and to Mr. Nolen Flemming of the A.I.D.C. for their assistance in locating this expansion in Hope. Melvin Thrash, Assistant Mayor, acting in the absence of Mayor Sam Strong, said he hoped the citizens would approve the Bond Issue by a large vote to show that the community really appreciates this industry which has been providing jobs in the Hope Community for a number of years.

In other action, the Board passed an ordinance accepting the annexation of a portion of the Pines Addition. It was discovered during the recent census that annexation action had not been completed on a portion of this addition.

Fidel Castro Threatens Hijacking

MIAMI (AP) — Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro has threatened to encourage hijackers of American airplanes if the United States continues "a campaign of lies and hypocrisy" over the shutdown of the Cuban Refugee Airlift.

In a Havana speech, Castro declared that "cheap propaganda by the imperialists" may encourage Cubans to attempt "illegal departures" such as escapes in small boats.

"The imperialists should remember that we have never pinned medals on any hijackers of their planes arriving here," he shouted.

"But to those encouraging illegality here, let them know we shall encourage illegality there."

The prime minister spoke in Havana's Revolutionary Plaza Tuesday night in a ceremony commemorating the 11th anniversary of the creation of the neighborhood Committees for the Defense of the Revolution. His speech was carried over radio and television and monitored in Miami.

Castro denied that Cuba had "unilaterally suspended" the flights. . . The fact is that the list is exhausted," he said.

He referred to his orders grounding the airlift after some 1,700 Cubans awaiting the flights arrive in the United States.

Castro's remarks came on the sixth anniversary of a speech in which he "opened the doors of Cuba to anyone wishing to leave." That offer, quickly accepted by the United States, resulted in the establishment of the twice-a-day Freedom Flights, which have brought almost 246,000 Cubans to the United States.

When the flights began in 1965, the United States and Cuba drew up a master list containing an undisclosed number of names. In May 1966 Castro said he would accept no more names for the list. On Aug. 31, he said that of 33,000 names still on the list, 900 still wanted to leave but the rest had died, left Cuba by other means or no longer wanted to leave.

No casualties were reported. In another development, Gen. Duong Van "Big" Minh, who along with Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky withdrew from the presidential race charging that the election was rigged by Thieu, said a president chosen in an uncontested election "can in no way represent the people."

President Thieu Orders Rioters Shot

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu today ordered police to "shoot to kill" antigovernment rioters who throw firebombs or otherwise endanger lives.

Government spokesman Vu Khanh, confirming Thieu's order, said the president told police officials, "We are living in a period of political danger and turmoil. It is the duty of police to keep order. It is their duty to react to any violence."

"Whoever creates violence in the streets for the purpose of terrorism must be severely punished. Those who are caught red-handed burning autos must be shot on the spot if necessary."

Thieu made no mention of continuing demonstrations against his unopposed candidacy in Sunday's presidential election.

Thieu issued the order to some 400 police officials from around the country gathered for a meeting at the national police headquarters in Saigon.

Shortly after the meeting, a terrorist bomb exploded in front of a crowded restaurant in suburban Gia Dinh, wounding 24 persons, all Vietnamese.

It was the fourth major terrorist bombing in the Saigon area in the past two weeks.

The Gia Dinh Province chief, Col. Le Van Tu, said the wounded included five policemen, 14 soldiers, two women, two children and a civilian man.

Tu said preliminary reports showed no one was killed.

A vehicle belonging to an American contracting firm was firebombed in central Saigon earlier in the day. There were no injuries.

No new antigovernment protests were reported in Saigon, but in Da Nang several hundred students staged anti-Thieu demonstrations at two high schools.

Some of the students pelted police with rocks, and police fired scores of tear gas canisters to disperse them.

No casualties were reported.

In another development, Gen. Duong Van "Big" Minh, who along with Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky withdrew from the presidential race charging that the election was rigged by Thieu, said a president chosen in an uncontested election "can in no way represent the people."

Broadcast Fails to Clear Up Mystery

HONG KONG (AP) — The Canton television relayed more than two hours of programs originating in Peking today without making the "special and important news program" it had promised.

Watchers in Hong Kong believed the program represented a fill-in to replace—for some reason—what Canton television had billed as a program concerning the National Day celebration Friday.

It was a disappointment for China watchers who had hoped the telecast would clear up some of the recent puzzling developments in Red China.

The Peking announcement a week ago that the traditional National Day parade had been canceled touched off speculation that something was stirring in Red China.

It has been traditional every Oct. 1 since the Communists took control of the mainland for Mao Tse-tung and other ranking Communist leaders to review the parade.

The telecast opened with coverage of a Chinese delegation returning to Peking from a visit to North Vietnam, continued with a long documentary on the use of acupuncture as a medical treatment, then switched to a gymnastics exhibition staged by a visiting Albanian athletic team at which Premier Chou En-lai was seen.

Henderson Investigated, Court Told

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL, Associated Press Writer

FT. MEADE, Md. (AP) — A witness says Col. Oran K. Henderson flew to the My Lai area two days after the assault to question Capt. Ernest Medina about 20 civilian deaths reported by his Charlie Company.

"He launched into a very piercing inquiry concerning civilian casualties," said Richard K. Blackledge, the intelligence officer for Henderson's 11th Brigade who was there. "He first asked him how he knew beyond a doubt that the body count he turned in was correct. Capt. Medina said he relied on his platoon leader."

Was there any inquiry about how many civilians died, Blackledge was asked by the prosecutor, Maj. Carroll J. Tichenor. "The answer Capt. Medina gave was in the 20s," Blackledge said.

It was the first testimony at Henderson's court-martial that he discussed the massacre with Medina, whose company swept through My Lai on March 16, 1968. Medina was acquitted last week of all charges arising from My Lai.

Blackledge said the meeting with Medina was held in a potato patch with all three participants lying on their stomachs.

Earlier witnesses have said that on March 18, the day of the potato patch rendezvous, Henderson was ordered to investigate allegations of mass slaughter of civilians. He is charged with failing to investigate allegations of war crimes.

"I don't recall the word atrocities being used," said Blackledge, who retired as lieutenant colonel last year to go into the insurance business in Kaneohe, Hawaii. "However, it was evident he (Henderson) was concerned about the large number of civilian casualties."

Blackledge said he came away from the meeting feeling Henderson "was pretty well satisfied."

The official report of Task Force Barker, parent unit of Charlie Company, was that 128 Viet Cong were killed that day along with some 20 civilians caught accidentally by artillery and helicopter gunship fire. Henderson, in a brief report to his commanding general six weeks after My Lai, clung to that figure.

Lt. Gen. William R. Peers, who headed the high-level Pentagon investigation into the massacre and its aftermath, preceded Blackledge on the stand.

Weather to Remain Same in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Summer-like conditions are expected to continue in Arkansas through the week.

Temperatures today and Thursday are forecast in the mid 80s to low 90s, which is eight to 10 degrees above normal for this time of year. Lows tonight should be in the mid 60s to low 70s.

Rainfall will be limited for the next several days. Despite the high humidity, moisture in the upper levels of the atmosphere is not sufficient to support show development.

The prevalent feature on the weather map as far as Arkansas is concerned is a high pressure ridge which extends from New England into Texas. This ridge is expected to remain almost stationary through Friday.

The weather picture should change about the weekend with a few showers and slightly cooler temperatures included in the extended forecast.

Overnight lows include Fayetteville 69, Harrison 66, Jonesboro 64, Pine Bluff 66, Texarkana 67, El Dorado 64, Memphis 69, Little Rock 65 and Fort Smith 67.

Offensive Launched in Vietnam

By GEORGE ESPER, Associated Press Writer

TAY NINH, Vietnam (AP) — Thousands of South Vietnamese reinforcements and scores of U.S. bombers launched a counter-offensive along the South Vietnamese-Cambodian border today to reopen a 30-mile stretch of highway cut by North Vietnamese forces threatening to overrun a half dozen allied positions.

Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Minh, commander of South Vietnamese forces in the 3rd Military Region, said initial reports indicated ground contact with the enemy was light.

The 3rd Region includes Saigon and 11 surrounding provinces and shares 231 miles of border with Cambodia. The northwestern sector of the region above Tay Ninh city has been under heavy pressure since Sunday.

Minh said two North Vietnamese divisions have launched a three-pronged campaign aimed at overrunning South Vietnamese troops along the frontier, stepping up sapper and shelling attacks in the region and exploiting the current political unrest in Saigon.

One South Vietnamese base, Tran Hung Dao, 18 miles north of Tay Ninh city, was in danger of being overrun and U.S. B52 bombers and smaller tactical fighter-bombers hit at North Vietnamese troop concentrations and gun positions within 1,000 yards of the base.

Other B52s bombed within a few miles of the Cambodian rubber plantation town of Krok, seven miles from the Vietnamese border, where other Saigon forces are threatened by the North Vietnamese 5th Division.

Four U.S. and four South Vietnamese generals met in Tay Ninh to discuss the threats to the allied positions including a U.S. artillery base.

Minh and Lt. Gen. Nguyen Xuan Thinh, his deputy, said that after the heavy U.S. air strikes, the enemy rocket and mortar attacks had tapered off.

The Saigon command reported nine shelling Tuesday with a total bombardment of 600 rocket and mortars against South Vietnamese positions around Krok and in northern Tay Ninh Province. Informants said four South Vietnamese soldiers were killed and 14 were wounded.

In an unusual move, Maj. Gen. Alton D. Slay, director of operations for the 7th Air Force, flew to Tay Ninh to supervise the installation of electronic beacons at fire support bases to guide in bombers in any kind of weather if the position is in danger of being overrun.

AP&L Accuses Commission in Dispute

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Power & Light Co. has accused the staff of the Federal Power Commission of becoming a champion of Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. in the gas curtailment dispute pending before the commission.

The FPC staff filed a brief three weeks ago that severely criticized AP&L and took the side of Arkla on most points in the dispute between the two utilities over curtailing gas sales to AP&L. The brief said AP&L was largely to blame for any problems it had because of the current gas shortage.

Arkla is sharply curtailing its gas sales to AP&L and other large industrial customers. It has filed a curtailment policy with the FPC that places AP&L in the first category of customers to have their gas purchases curtailed. AP&L, the state Public Service Commission and others protested the plan and the FPC temporarily suspended it.

Arkla is to curtail gas sales until Oct. 15 under a plan ordered by the state Public Service Commission. It prohibits Arkla from reducing gas sales to AP&L by more than 25 per cent of its needs in the summer and 50 per cent in the fall and winter. Arkla's proposal will presumably go into effect Oct. 15 unless the FPC suspends the proposal again or Arkla alters it.

AP&L says Arkla's plans will increase the possibility of electrical "brownouts" or "blackouts" in addition to possibly raising monthly electric bills.

Business Shows Sign of Slow-down

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Commerce Department says the leading business indicators, statistics used to predict business movements, declined by 0.9 per cent in August, only the second time in the last 10 months they have done so.

But, the department said the President's new economic program may have affected the figure. Nixon's 90-day wage-price freeze went into effect Aug. 15.

"The August decline in the composite index must be judged against the background of a strongly rising trend in the leading indicators since last October, Asst. Secretary of Commerce Harold C. Passer said Tuesday.

Since October when they fell 0.9 per cent, the indicators have risen every month except last June when they fell 0.2 per cent.

The Treasury Department also reported a deficit of $3.93 billion in August. The figure is down from July's $5.36 billion and raises the total deficit for the first two months of fiscal 1972 about $260 million more than the deficit for the same period last year, the government reported.

Satellites Hurdled Into Orbit Today

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Two new satellites hurtled into orbit aboard a single rocket today—one to test the Apollo tracking network, the other to probe the sun by creating its own solar eclipses.

Because of a control problem with the second stage of the Delta rocket, the payloads were injected into elliptical rather than the desired circular orbits. This might reduce the effectiveness of the solar observatory.

The two-stage Delta vaulted skyward at 5:45 a.m., EDT and performed perfectly through first and second stage flight of about 10 minutes. Then, after an 18-minute coast, the second stage reignited for six seconds in a maneuver intended to place the satellites into circular paths 345 miles high.

But the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced that when the engine restarted the stage experienced an attitude control problem and was pointed slightly off course. As a result, the payloads were kicked into elliptical paths ranging from about 225 to 355 miles high.

Officials said the abnormal orbit might make it more difficult to aim some of the six experiments on the sun probe, but that it should have little effect on the Apollo test satellite.

Mindszenty Recalled by Pope Paul

By EDWARD MAGRI, Associated Press Writer

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Josef Cardinal Mindszenty, Hungary's unyielding anti-Communist primate, was named a prince of the Church in an era when Pope Pius XII excommunicated Communists and Hungary was falling into Red hands.

Now, a quarter of a century later, he has been recalled to Rome by Pope Paul VI in a dramatic demonstration of the pontiff's effort to coexist with Communist governments and negotiate a better life for Roman Catholics under their control.

Mindszenty, the 79-year-old "Cardinal of Steel," bowed reluctantly to Pope Paul's call to leave his asylum in the U.S. Embassy in Budapest and come to Rome under a Communist stipulation that he never return to Hungary. He said quitting his homeland was "perhaps the heaviest cross of my life."

But in an era of negotiations between the Vatican and Communist countries, many came to regard the prelate as an obstacle to better church-state relations and as a problem for bishops left behind—those trying to run the Church under Communist regimes.

All admired his courage. But many wondered in private whether his valor should include a larger measure of discretion.

The directors also passed an ordinance rezoning approximately 7 acres of property belonging to Miles and Vida Laha, located at the intersection of 23rd and South Main Streets, from R-1, Residential, to C-3, Neighborhood Commercial. The Planning and Zoning Commission had held a Public Hearing on the proposed rezoning and recommended its adoption by the City Directors.

The Board of Directors discussed the possibility of making 40 acres of the airport property available to a prospective industry who is planning a metal fabricating plant. The Industrial Foundation, who has been negotiating with this industry, had requested that the land be made available at a price of $400 per acre. Tom Hays, Jr., President of the Industrial Foundation, says he thinks the industry is assured but could not make any public announcement since the Foundation did not yet have final agreements worked out. The City has already obtained permission from the Federal Aviation Administration for using this part of the airport property for industrial development.

Bass Found Guilty in District Court

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A U.S. District Court jury Tuesday night found Harry C. Bass Jr. of St. Louis and Selb Manufacturing Co. of Walnut Ridge guilty of conspiring to defraud the government in connection with production of parts for the F111 fighter-bomber.

The jury of seven women and five men deliberated about three hours before returning the verdict in the third week of the trial.

Bass, who was president of Selb, was convicted on one count of a federal Grand Jury indictment alleging conspiracy to defraud and one count alleging the overt act of falsifying serial numbers on parts for the jet aircraft.

Selb was tried only on the conspiracy count. The penalty on each count is a prison sentence of up to five years or fine of $10,000 or both.

Judge J. Smith Henley postponed sentencing until after he receives a presentence investigation report.

Bass, 56, was one of seven men indicted by the government. All were employees of either Selb or General Dynamics Corp. of Fort Worth, Tex., prime contractor for the swing-wing plane.

Bass is the fourth man to come to trial. James L. Townley of Hurst, Tex., a former General Dynamics employee, was acquitted in February, and Kenneth Hunn of Pocatontos and Melvin C. Davis of Walnut Ridge, former Selb employee, pleaded no contest in April.

Gromyko delivered a relatively moderate policy speech at the United Nations Tuesday, declaring that an improved political climate is favorable for Moscow's proposed world disarmament conference. The Soviet foreign minister portrayed the time as ripe for a conference on European security and other tension-easing steps.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers sounded out Gromyko at the U.N. during a dinner meeting last Friday and got little new information on what the Kremlin really has in mind for a European security conference and East-West talks on mutual troop cuts in Europe.

The Berlin access agreement, which has a bearing on progress on the European security question, is currently at an impasse over East-West German disagreement on terms for carrying out the accord.

The U.S.-Soviet strategic arms limitation talks (SALT) recessed temporarily at Helsinki last week with negotiators having made some progress. But the two nuclear giants were reported still some distance away from a major agreement on curbing anti ballistic and offensive missiles.

Rogers and Gromyko are slated to sign Thursday the hotline and accidental-war accords, which are side agreements negotiated at Helsinki. The two plan a Thursday luncheon session which will follow through on today's White House parley.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Is Andy leading Ethel Astray?" "Ryan O'Neal Returns to Barbara Parkins!" "Lucile Ball Cries, 'I Don't Feel Guilty Any More.'"

The wonderful world of the movie fan magazines moves along with such cover-lines as these. The film industry may come close to extinction, the star system may seem all but abolished—yet the fan mags carry on.

"Twins ever so. Fan magazines have existed almost since the beginning of the movie medium."

"We still go along the old moralistic line," says Nancy Anderson, West Coast editor for Photoplay. "If Liz Taylor steals Debbie Reynolds' husband, she gets fat and suffers."

That's the way it is in the fan mag world. In a curious sort of way, it is one of the last bastions of morality. Husband-stealing, pot smoking and babies out of wedlock are still considered no-no's.

Even with the movie business in rocky shape and the number of stars at an all-time low, the fan mags go on. The three leaders, Photoplay, Modern Screen, Motion Picture—the latter founded in 1912, the first in the field—are very much in business. So are all of the lesser magazines, and others come and go.

Circulation is not up to boom years, but sufficient for survival. One method of survival is to do stories about political figures, especially the Kennedys. "It started with Jack Kennedy," explains Helen Weller, West Coast editor of Modern Screen all of the magazines are edited and printed in New York.

"It was the first time that an American president had star quality. With the death of stars in films, whom have you got to write about?"

Whom indeed? And so Caroline Kennedy receives as much attention in the magazines as Debbie Reynolds.

Keep your nose to the grindstone and you'll get a sore nose.

MRS. JAMES T. TURNER

The First United Methodist Church of Corning was the setting for the wedding of Miss Sara Louise Pettit and James Thomas Turner on Saturday, September 18. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth W. Pettit of Corning and Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Turner of Hope.

The Rev. Wayne Clark officiated. Music was presented by Mrs. Robert P. Shannon, organist, and Steve Smith, soloist. Miss Carol Misenheimer and John Crowfoot lighted the candles. All are of Corning.

Mr. Pettit gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a gown of organza and re-embroidered Chantilly lace. It was fashioned with an oval neckline, bishop sleeves and a semi-full skirt which fell from an Empire bodice. Her mantilla was of English illusion and was encircled with lace. She carried a bouquet of carnations and sweetheart roses.

Miss Marinelle Halbrook of Cleveland was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Debbie Cook of North Little Rock and Mrs. Joe Dodd Hester of Conway.

Mr. Turner acted as best man for his son. Groomsmen were Neal Ritter of Fayetteville and Herman Churchwell of Conway. Ushers were Jack Turner, brother of the bridegroom, and Bill Pettit, brother of the bride.

Following the wedding, a reception honoring the couple was held in the fellowship hall of the church.

A wedding trip was made to Memphis, and the newlyweds are now at home in Conway, where both are seniors at Hendrix College.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

WOMAN STEAMS OVER "FEMALE VAPORS"

Dear Helen:

When a man gets rightfully mad and blows up, people listen, or at least pay him the compliment of fighting back on his level. Sometimes his mate even cringes a bit. And the air is cleared, because the MALE has ASSERTED himself!

Not so with women. If, after taking it up to here as the sweet, understanding conciliator, she tears loose with the fury she's held back too long, does it "clear the air"? No! Someone whispers, "It must be that time of the month," or—if she's older—"She's starting the change, you know, poor thing." Whenever we're righteously indignant, our hormones get blamed. Instead of LISTENING, people tippy-toe around, acting sorry for us.

Be it known far and wide (and especially by my husband and family) that my reproductive organs have nothing—but NOTHING—to do with my infrequent explosions. Isn't it time we had the right to a healthy "mad," without having it attributed to "female vapors"? —FOR WOMEN'S RIGHT TO TEMPER

Dear FWRTT:

Attagirl! The hoary old "female vapors" syndrome makes many a woman steam, and rightfully.

I'm reminded of a male writer who blamed a prominent woman's "gabbiness" on the menopause. Right then and there, that gal gained me as a supporter, even though I seldom agree with all she says.

What do you bet women win job and wage equality sooner than they banish the classic put-down: "Poor thing, it must be the wrong time of month for her." —H.

Dear Helen:

You advised a woman that hugging friends was fine, if she felt like hugging, even though her husband was more restrained. I wonder.

I've been married 19 years to an Oriental man who has always refused to hug or kiss me in public. Reason: In Japan it is rude to show affection when others are present because some lonely person, with no one to hug or kiss, might be watching and be made more lonely.

I'm used to this now—we don't need to touch in public. Just looking at each other expresses our love.

Couldn't "just looking" at friends convey affection too? As Mr. Spock of Star Trek says, "Restraint is civilized." It can also make the heart grow fonder. —AN ORIENTAL'S WIFE

Dear Wife:

Different strokes for different folks. Demonstrated affection is misery for more restrained people, but "the touchable" are miserable without it. While a husband and wife should respect either trait in the other, they shouldn't remold their own personalities to conform. —H.

Dear Helen:

My husband is a wonderful provider, a good man, not a philanderer. His one bad habit is that he flatters every woman he meets. He bolsters their ego at the expense of mine, i.e.: "I'd give anything if MY wife baked bread like this!" or "You're as young-looking as when you were in college with us."

If I retaliate by giving a man friend a compliment, my husband implies I'm stuck on him. He was always a big tease. Considering the terrible problems I read in your column, mine seems slight, but Helen, I can't stand the sly glances women give me when he's slathering on the praise (which he doesn't mean—you should hear what he says about them later at home!) —DOROTHY

Dear Dorothy:

It's a blarney to your husband—baloney to you—and later on you discover it's all a bunch of bull. So smile at his teasing. He could have worse habits! —H.

AP Fashion Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Some of this year's men's fashions look as though they belong on a vitamin freak, a health nut, a weight lifter or a hearty back-slapping man who just dashed in from a romp in the country, his cheeks ablaze with color.

Nobody's fooling around with oyster pink serge suits or frilly day shirts or flowing neck scarves anymore. Whether it's the new "elegance" in the return of the grey flannel suit or the "country-in-the-city" look with jeans-cut trousers and suede patch jackets, the pitch is to the rugged action man. Many styles smack of the cowboy and the hunter.

This theme turned up Monday in the first ready-to-wear collection from New York custom tailor Dimitri of Italy. He showed a selection of neatly tailored levi and safari suits for men and women, in fabrics from white linen to grey flannel.

Some of his bold plaid city outfits were called "Friday suits." A man can take off his shirt, add a turtleneck sweater and leave for the country straight from his office on Fridays.

It's no wonder Dimitri is called the "sultan of shape." His pleated trousers as well as his jeans-cut slacks fit snugly. His jackets still hug the waist. Some are tucked and belted in back.

As French designer Pierre Cardin said Monday, the big look is the "second skin" idea with soft fabrics like jerseys in men's wear.

Cardin is in town to introduce his new second-skin smell, a line of men's fragrances. As a reassuring note for the hunter or cowboy who has second thoughts about wearing a "fragrance," the scent is described as having a "tenacious, woody note which makes it discreetly virile, typically masculine, sporting and refined."

The sporting look turned up at the Alexanders department store fall men's show, with fall styles adapted from European designs. The big bold blanket plaid jackets and shearing coats belong on a man fresh from a football game.

The grey flannel suit—three piece, two-button—got top bil-

FS Northside Number One In Ratings

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Little Rock Hall, with a little help from Benton, is climbing back toward the top of The Associated Press high school football poll.

The Warriors fell to fifth two weeks ago after losing to Little Rock Catholic. Last week, they moved up to fourth after beating Little Rock Parkview. This week Hall is ranked third, thanks to Benton's 20-19 upset of third-ranked Hot Springs.

The victory vaulted previously unranked Benton into the No. 6 spot in the poll.

Fort Smith Northside continues as a solid choice for the top spot in the poll, receiving 12 of the 17 first-place votes cast. Little Rock Catholic is ranked second again this week.

Unbeaten Forrest City is fourth followed by Stuttgart, a two-point loser to Northside. After Benton comes El Dorado, Rogers, Hot Springs and Texarkana.

Speier Bats Giants to 7-1 Win

By BERT ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Sports Writer
One year after Chris Speier was born, Maury Wills was playing his first season of professional baseball.

Tuesday night the two shortstops—Speier, the 21-year-old rookie with the San Francisco Giants and the 38-year-old Wills of the Los Angeles Dodgers—had the key hits for their teams as the National League's sizzling West Division race continued to boil.

Speier whacked a three-run homer, leading San Francisco to a 7-1 victory over San Diego, keeping the Giants one game ahead of the Dodgers with two games remaining.

Wills cracked a run-scoring single, breaking a tie in the eighth inning and giving the Dodgers a 2-1 triumph over the Houston Astros.

"The best way to play the game is when everything you do means something," said Speier, who was not even on the Giants' roster at the start of spring training. "I like that. Sure, there's pressure but you try to put it out of your mind."

Asked how he felt being a rookie in a tinging pennant battle, he answered: "I wouldn't want it any other way. This is the biggest education I could get. I could play 20 years more and might not be in this situation again. I really enjoy it."

Wills, who already has played 20 years of professional baseball, including 13 in the majors, admitted he still gets nervous before a game.

"If you don't get butterflies anymore it means you're getting a little blasé or you don't care."

Wills can't be accused of either. "He's the guy who is really holding us together," said Manager Walt Alston. "He's been playing every day."

The Dodgers were locked in a 1-1 struggle with Houston and had been held to two hits by Don Wilson when Wills came to bat in the eighth inning with Bobby Valentine on second after drawing a one-out walk and being sacrificed by pitcher Bill Singer.

Wills then singled sharply off the glove of shortstop Roger Metzger. The ball rolled behind Metzger and into short center field as Valentine raced home with the decisive run.

The Dodgers' other run came on Duke Sims' homer leading off the sixth inning.

Wilson, 16-10, and Singer, 10-17, both finished with three-hits in the rapidly played game which lasted only one hour and 37 minutes.

While the Giants and Dodgers were continuing their torrid duel for the West championship, Philadelphia defeated Pittsburgh 6-3, Atlanta blanked Cincinnati 4-0, Montreal edged Chicago 5-4 and St. Louis downed New York 5-2 in other National League games.

Singer, who has been hampered by arm injuries through most of the season, called his performance against the Astros one of the best games he has ever pitched. "I knew it was a pressure game," he commented.

The only run Houston managed off the Dodgers' right-hander came in the fourth inning when Joe Morgan walked, took third on Cesar Cedeño's single and scored on Bob Watson's hit. Cedeño, who had taken second on a passed ball by Sims, also tried to score on the play but was thrown out by center fielder Willie Davis.

Speier's homer, his eighth of the season, capped a four-run San Francisco uprising in the sixth inning and eased Gaylord Perry's 16th victory.

Speier said he tried to call time just before Padres' rookie Ed Acosta threw the pitch which he smashed over the left field wall, but the plate umpire apparently didn't hear him.

"As soon as I saw the ball I swung," he said. "It's one of my biggest hits so far."

Perry, 16-12, checked the Padres on seven hits. "I know I've been depended on so I've reached back lately," said the veteran right-hander who has allowed only six earned runs in his last 48 innings. "It's really helped."

Two-run homers by Deron Johnson and Greg Luzinski plus a solo shot by Mike Anderson helped Philadelphia's Rick Wise post his 17th victory as he PITCHING (15 Decisions)—McNally, Balt., 21-5, .808, 2.89; beat Pittsburgh with a nine-hitter, fanning Dock Ellis' bid for his 20th victory. The Pirates' Willie Stargell walloped his 48th homer and regained the major league lead.

Knuckleballer Phil Niekro baffled Cincinnati on three hits and Ralph Garr extended his hitting streak to 22 games as Atlanta beat the Reds and clinched third place in the West. Garr doubled home the only run Niekro needed in the third inning, then Earl Williams doubled in two more runs in the eighth and scored on Dusty Baker's double.
Rusty Staub's run-scoring single in the bottom of the ninth carried Montreal past Chicago. The Expos' Ron Hunt tied a 75-year-old major league record when he was hit by a pitch for the 49th time this season.
Steve Carlton, a 19-game loser last year, became a 20-game winner for St. Louis this season, stopping the Mets on seven hits. Ted Simmons' two-run single was the big hit for the Cards.

PIGSKIN PARADE--

Top Intersectional Games Dominate Collegiate Sked Saturday

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
The Wizard of Odds
Egad, friends, there are some exceptionally promising intersectional contests on this week's collegiate pigskin parade, to coin a phrase.

Topping the list is the meeting at Norman, Okla., of the high-scoring Sooners and Southern California Trojans. Almost as enticing are the Stanford-Duke, Ohio State-California, Penn State-Air Force and Illinois-Washington engagements. All of these games will be played on the home field of the team first named.

Doping out the winners of these contests, dear readers, required the best efforts of my entire — kaff-kaff — staff of assistants, and, in fact, the services of my assistants' assistants (several of whom are fellow astrology buffs) and the full facilities of our huge computer complex—um-kumph!

Despite our combined efforts the Oklahoma-Southern California joust defied solution. We were unable to find a scintilla of difference in the abilities of these two fine elevens. The Hoople computer indicates a thrilling 21-21 standoff! Impossible you say! Hah! Let me remind you it was the Hoople System that gave you Colorado to edge Ohio State last week—har-rumph!

In the other games mentioned above, I confidently predict a Stanford triumph over the highly-regarded Duke Blue Devils by a 28-22 count, and an Ohio State 24-19 conquest of California. The free-wheeling Nittany Lions will vanquish the Air Force Falcons, 33-27, and Sonny Sixkiller and his Washington mates will ride roughshod over Illinois, 42-16!

In a big Southeastern Conference clash, Alabama (3-0) and Mississippi (3-0) bump heads at Birmingham. When the day's work is done I look for Alabama's Crimson Tide, coached by my—ahem—one-time protegee, Paul Bryant, to walk off the field with a well deserved 22-15 victory!

Now go on with the forecast.

Cornhuskers To Battle Utah State

By HERSHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — "We're still waiting to play the best teams on our schedule—Colorado and Oklahoma."

The author of that statement is top-ranked Nebraska's Bob Devaney. This week he does not play Colorado or Oklahoma, but rather Utah State, which, like Nebraska, has a 3-0 record, but is unranked.

Coach Chuck Mills of the Aggies does not intend to plaster Devaney's remark all over the Utah State locker room.

"Far be it from me to refute Bob Devaney," says Mills. "What if it's true? We're just gonna go into Lincoln, Neb., and trade our blue jerseys for red ones like Nebraska wears and hope the fans get all mixed up."

"We're not gonna resort to psychology or do anything different. I think it just creates more problems for the kids if you do crazy things. Besides, we're in the great position of not being supposed to win."

"No, wait a minute; I'll trade positions with Bob Devaney. I'd like to be the one they're all shooting at. This is survival week for us. We'll have to check the kids' adrenalin and the dilation of their pupils. If they're not dilated we're in real trouble."

One undiluted vote for ... NEBRASKA.

Oregon at Texas—Was Donnie Wigginton's classy performance in place of the injured Eddie Phillips last week really that much of a surprise? After all, Wigginton overshadowed Phillips in the Longhorn spring game, directing four long scoring drives. Oregon's quarterback, Dan Fouts, is hurting. TEXAS.

Michigan State at Notre Dame—Notre Dame this week and Michigan next. Now you know why they call Michigan State the Spartans. NOTRE DAME.

Razorbacks; TCU Tangle Sked Saturday

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer
FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—TCU Coach Jim Pittman isn't concerned about Arkansas' 12 straight victories over the Horned Frogs.

"I don't care what's happened in the past," said Pittman, who took over as TCU head coach last December. "I'm trying to make something happen now."

TCU and Arkansas open their Southwest Conference seasons Saturday at Fayetteville.

TCU is 1-1, beating the University of Texas at Arlington and losing in Washington. Arkansas was rolling along seventh in the nation after victories over California and Oklahoma State, but the Razorbacks were upset 21-20 by Tulsa last week.

Pittman refused to criticize Arkansas' defensive play against Tulsa even though the Golden Hurricane scored three times in the fourth quarter.

"Tulsa had some fine well-executed plays," Pittman said. "They had several crucial third and long yardage situations and were able to make them. You have to give Tulsa a pat on the back for fine execution. It's not a discredit to Arkansas' defense. When you're playing hanging on, it takes away aggressiveness."

Pittman said he was disappointed in the way TCU performed last week, but blamed some of the problems on the weather. There was water three to four inches deep standing on the artificial turf at Seattle before the game.

"We played real cautious in the first half because we were afraid we were going to slip," Pittman said. "They're familiar with those kind of conditions. I understand they wet their field down before practice because it rains so much up there."

Washington returned the second half kickoff for a touchdown and a 31-6 lead, but TCU refused to quit.

"We got back within 11 points and two or three times we could have gotten closer but we'd miss a first down by a yard or something," Pittman said.

Pittman said TCU defended well against Washington's running game, but broke down on pass defense and the kicking game.

Sonny Sixkiller, Washington's highly touted quarterback, completed 10 of 24 passes for 230 yards against TCU.

"He completed four or five screen passes but he hurt us deep three times," Pittman said. "Arkansas has got a guy the same caliber as Sixkiller under center ... (Joe) Ferguson."

"Ferguson's a real fine quarterback," Pittman said. "He throws the ball real well and they've got good receivers. If he has the time, he'll get it right in there."

California and Oklahoma State were unsuccessful in getting to Ferguson. Tulsa chose to defend against Ferguson's receivers.

"We'll either try to cover all the zones and play the quick receivers tight or we'll try to rush," Pittman said. "We'll try to mix it up, keep them off balance."

Pittman says he expects Arkansas to throw "quite a bit" Saturday.

The Razorbacks lost Jon Richardson, their leading ground gainer, Saturday against Tulsa and were unable to move the ball consistently after he departed.

Steve Judy, who has broken many of the records established by legendary Sammy Baugh, is the ringleader of the Horned Frogs' offense. Last year, the 6-foot, 187-pound Judy completed 21 of 45 passes for 275 yards in the Horned Frogs' 49-14 loss to Arkansas.

"He's a fine quarterback, a fine operator," Pittman said.

"The thing is, we haven't put a good game together yet," Pittman said. "We made a lot of mistakes against UT-Arlington but our defense shut 'em out so you couldn't tell. Last week, it was hard to get a true picture. I think we can play a heckuva lot better than we did up there."

Nix Chosen NFL Player Of the Week

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — George Blanda left the Chicago Bears and Kent Nix joined them to grab pro football glory.

Nix, 27, has a lot of quarterback heroics to go before he really matches the 44-year-old Blanda, who left a disgruntled Bear more than a decade ago.

But Nix is off to a pretty good start this season, including his selection Tuesday as The AP's National Football League Offensive Player of the Week.

The honor came for the Texas Christian product's second successive game-winning performance as a relief specialist, the latest in exploding the Bears to a last-quarter, 20-17 upset of the Minnesota Vikings.

"That's really a surprise, a great feeling," was the response of Nix. "A lot of other players could have been recognized. I only played seven or eight minutes."

It was shattering start of time, however, for the heavily favored Vikings.

The Bears were trailing 17-3 when the Vikings' Carl Eller jolted starting quarterback Jack Concannon out of the game. In came Nix. His first pass was a 36-yard scoring shot to Dick Gordon.

Then Nix maneuvered the Bears into position for a 45-yard field goal by Mac Percival, his second three-pointer of the game, which trimmed Minnesota's lead to 17-13 with 3:51 left.

With third down-and-10 on the Viking 19 and 1:42 remaining, Nix arched a looping pass, again to Gordon, and the NFL's leading 1970 receiver grabbed the ball deep in the end zone behind two Viking defenders for the winning touchdown.

The previous Sunday, only 44 seconds remained when Nix—again subbing for Concannon—pumped an 8-yard touchdown

Coffee Stimulates Brain and Heart

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I would like to know if the habitual drinking of from one to three cups of average strength coffee a day would affect the normal healthy function of the adrenal glands over the years. Please give me your true answer, irrespective of the effect on the coffee business.

Dear Reader—I doubt the coffee business is going to shudder very much from my answer. The main problem posed by plain coffee is its caffeine content. For those who wish to avoid this problem there are a number of decaffeinated products on the market.

An average cup of coffee contains from 70 to 150 milligrams of caffeine, which means that two cups can give you a pretty good jolt. How much depends on how strong the coffee is and how strong the drinker is. A dose of caffeine of 150 to 250 milligrams stimulates the cortex of the brain, it speeds up typing performance and association of ideas. In other words, it turns one on. However, delicate muscular coordination may be hampered by this dose. And you can get that much caffeine in one or two cups of coffee, again depending upon the brew.

The bad aspect of coffee is its effects on the digestion of many people, causing an increase in stomach acidity with burning in the pit of the stomach. It should definitely not be used by anyone who has an ulcer.

It stimulates the heart and heavy coffee drinkers often have much higher heart rates than they do after they stop drinking coffee, or switch to a decaffeinated product. Some studies suggest that drinking five to six cups of coffee a day is associated with an increased rate of heart attacks.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

RA II, a papyrus reed boat, made a 57-day, 3,200-mile journey from Morocco to the Barbados, West Indies, in 1970. The World Almanac notes that Thor Heyerdahl and his seven-man crew proved their theory that early Egyptians could have reached this continent thousands of years before Columbus, and may have founded the ancient Aztec or Inca cultures.

118 Nations Demand New Money System

By BILL NEIKIRK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The International Monetary Fund has pressed its member nations to move quickly toward building a new structure of money-exchange rates to restore order to the world monetary system.

The worldwide monetary disruption "contains the dangers of instability and disorder in currency and trade relationships," the IMF's executive directors said in a resolution approved Tuesday night.

The resolution urged "reduction of restrictive trade and exchange policies," including President Nixon's 10-per-cent import surcharge, by all 118 member nations of the fund.

And it established the first legal basis for eventual reform of the monetary system, possibly through eliminating the gold-dollar standard on which it is based.

The resolution, which appears headed for certain adoption Friday by the IMF's board of governors, puts the IMF on the IMF on record as supporting urgent currency realignment apt to be hammered out by the 10 most powerful financial nations of the non-Communist world in meetings in October and November.

The IMF is overseer of the international monetary system, but its very survival was threatened when President Nixon announced Aug. 15 the United States would no longer redeem dollars for gold.

The dollar-gold relationship is the keystone of the system—the dollar has a value in terms of gold, all other currencies are stated in terms of the dollar.

The resolution made four requests to the member countries. The first urges each country to set a value on its money in relation to each other country's money, recommends countries tear down barriers to trade and the international movement of money.

Second, the resolution urged steps to "facilitate resumption of the orderly conduct of the operations of the fund," interpreted as a plea to guarantee survival of the present system.

Third, it called for a "reversal of the tendency in present circumstances to maintain and extend restrictive trade and exchange policies," representing another plea for free trade.

Finally, the resolution recommended "satisfactory arrangements for the settlement of international transactions which will contribute to the solution of problems involved in the present international monetary situation." That comment appeared directed at the big U.S. balance-of-payments deficit.
